STRESS MANAGEMENT

BE HEALTHIER, HAPPIER AND MORE PRODUCTIVE

Stress is a normal psychological and physical reaction to the demands of life. A small amount of stress can be good, motivating you to perform well. But many challenges daily can push you beyond your ability to cope. Without stress management your body can get stuck in the "fight-or-flight" mode and over time chronic stress can lead to serious health problems. One of the easiest forms of stress management is identifying sources of your stress. A stress journal can help identify regular stressors in your life and to help deal with them, practice the 4 A's of stress management; avoid, alter, adapt, or accept. AVOID: Avoid unnecessary stress. ALTER: If you can't avoid a stressful situation, try to alter it. ADAPT: Adapt to stressful situations and regain your sense of control by changing your expectations and attitude. ACCEPT: Acceptance may be difficult, but it is often easier than fighting against a situation you cannot change. Find a coping strategy that works for you! Keep in mind not all coping strategies are healthy. They may temporarily reduce stress, but long term can cause more damage. Don't wait until stress damages your health, relationships or quality of life, practice stress management techniques.

GUT & JOINT INFLAMMATION

IS BAD GUT HEALTH LINKED TO ACHY JOINTS?

It may seem like one has nothing to do with the other, but there's a growing body of research suggesting a very real connection between gut health and our joints. The source of joint pain can often be linked to one thing; inflammation and not surprisingly, getting your gut health in order appears to improve joint pain.

Our gut microbiome is associated with a wide range of chronic inflammatory diseases such as osteoarthritis. Repairing poor gut health is a powerful, yet easy, way to reduce systemic inflammation, leading to joint relief. Especially those with arthritis. Begin with your diet, make sure you're getting enough fiber. In addition, anti-inflammatory foods, like those containing omega-3 fatty acids, should be at the top of your shopping list. Taking a daily probiotic, which naturally balances the gut microbiome, can also help boost overall gut health.

Getting your gut health under control comes with some pretty significant added benefits, like improved immunity, mental clarity and much more.

FIGHT COLD & FLU SEASON

PREVENTION, SUPPORT & TREATMENT FOR COLD & FLU

Prevention is the first line of defense against the yearly cold & flu season. Practicing good hygiene habits can help stop the spread of germs and sickness. Avoid close contact with people who are sick. When you are sick, keep your distance from others to protect them from getting sick too. Cover your mouth and nose when coughing or sneezing. Wash your hands often or use a alcohol based hand sanitizer. Get plenty of sleep, stay active, manage stress, drink plenty of fluids and eat nutritious foods to give your immune system the best chance to defend you.

You can support your immune system in otherways such as anti-viral supplements. Anti-virals can help to lessen the severity of symptoms associated with cold and flu and shorten the duration of sickness. If you do end up getting sick it is much easier to deal with mild symptoms.

There is no cure for the common cold, the best thing you can do is take care of yourself while your body recovers. Make yourself as comfortable as possible, get plenty of rest and stay hydrated.

SPECIALTY DIET GROCERY

GLUTEN-FREE, KETO, SUGAR-FREE, DAIRY-FREE & MORE

We all have to eat. But what ends up on the plate can be very different from one person to the next. Understanding food and cooking is important for people with specialty diets. They need to ensure they are getting the proper nutrition they need while avoiding allergy triggers or foods that do not fit their lifestyle choices. Navigating these lifestyles can be challenging, but it doesn't have to be. It is entirely possible to achieve a healthy lifestyle and still enjoy a large variety of foods even while sticking to dietary restrictions.

At Nutters, we have specialty diets in mind. We offer a variety of quality products for every lifestyle and diet. Restrictive diets don't have to mean restricted taste. Our team can help you find products to accommodate dietary restrictions and food sensitivities. We are the perfect destination for alternative products.

Whether you are a long time vegan, diabetic, gluten-intolerant or just transitioning into one of these diets, we are here to support you!

INGREDIENTS

COOKIES

¾ cup salted butter	2 cups all-purpose flour	1 granny smith apple, grated
½ cup dark brown sugar	¼ tsp baking soda	½ cup chopped apple chips
¼ cup granulated sugar	½ tsp kosher salt
1 large egg	1 tsp apple pie spice
1 tsp vanilla	¾ cup rolled oats

CARAMEL ICING

1 ½ cups powdered sugar	3 tbsp caramel sauce
2 tbsp apple cider	½ cup apple chips, chopped

DIRECTIONS

1. Preheat the oven to 350°. Brown the butter by melting it over medium heat in a medium saucepan, then let it cook and bubble for an additional 3 to 5 minutes or until the foam and butter underneath is golden brown. Transfer it to a large, heatproof mixing bowl and swirl a few times to help stop the browning. Let it cool to room temperature, about 30 minutes.
2. Meanwhile, whisk together the flour, baking soda, salt, and apple pie spice in a medium bowl; set aside.
3. Add the brown and granulated sugars to the mixing bowl with the browned butter and beat with an electric mixer on medium speed for about 1 minute until creamy. Add the egg and vanilla, and mix on low just until combined.
4. Add the dry ingredients to the butter mixture and mix until combined. Mix in the oats and grated apple. Fold in the apple chips with a rubber spatula.
5. Scoop the dough into balls, about 1 ½ tablespoons in size, onto two parchment lined baking sheets and and press gently with the bottom of a glass. Bake for 10 to 12 minutes, or until the edges are golden brown. Cool for 5 minutes on the sheet tray, before transferring to a wire cooling rack to cool completely.
6. For the caramel icing: Whisk together the powdered sugar, apple juice, and caramel sauce. Using a spoon, drizzle the cookies generously with the icing and top with the chopped apple chips. Allow the glaze to set before serving, about 1 hour (at room temperature). Store in an airtight container at room temperature for up to 3 days.
